

National Training Awards

Crestcom International, LLC

Bullet Proof Manager wins UK's highest training award

The Bullet Proof Manager and Crestcom International's team of authorized licensees and facilitators in the United Kingdom [UK] were honored during the UK Skills "National Training Awards," held in Manchester and several other cities throughout the country.

The National Training Awards represent the highest accolade in the British training industry and, "aim to raise awareness and inspire others to invest in learning and development as a route to becoming world class and able to compete in today's global economy."

Bullet Proof Manager impressed the judges in the competition with its good practices and for, "the positive impact that the programme is having on client companies." Case studies from Bullet Proof Manager and its clients in the UK were an important part of the submission for this competition.

Bullet Proof Manager is validated, approved and certified by The Institute of Leadership and Management (ILM) - the largest management membership institute in Europe with 85,000 members. This prestigious, third-party validation brought added impact to Crestcom's National Training Awards entry.

The National Training Awards are presented by UK Skills - a non-profit organization that manages this competition on behalf of the National Department for Innovation, Universities and Skills, in partnership with the Department for Employment and Learning in Northern Ireland, the Welsh Assembly Government and Scottish Government/Skills Development Scotland.

©Copyright, Crestcom International, LLC

The British Standard is Bullet Proof. Shown above are Crestcom's Julian McInerney [far left] and Frank Audoire [holding trophy] receive the National Training Award from British Olympic athlete Colin Jackson, together with past Bullet Proof Manager participants.

